

MANITOBA ASSOCIATION OF CARDIOLOGY TECHNOLOGIST PRESIDENT's Report

Well I can honestly say, that I've tried.

I've tried to make things better ... for our association and for our members.

During my reign, I have closed down our former Sergeant office space saving us funds on rent & phone services. With that came clearing out the boxes & materials left behind by former board members. Old machines went to Dr. Alan Menkis (cardiac surgeon, chief medical director) who is planning on adding it to the archives of St. Boniface Hospital.

I've tried to adjust to the forever changing technology by aiding in the creation & launching of our MACT website.

From there we have progressed to 'going green' with less paper & more technology. Our newsletters, our reports & even our registration, all can be viewed & completed online. This in turn will save our association money, a little bit at a time.

Our board has always been working tirelessly to create new ways to intrigue its members, to push the limits. Our next step, rather the next step for the new board is to set up a MACT Facebook account. This will allow the public to view our Facebook page to see what's new with MACT. Anything & all things pertaining to MACT should be visible on our Facebook page which means more recognition, more awareness & not just for Manitobans but the world. Hopefully, this is a small step to help increase our membership. Once we have our membership increased, we can move forward to possible legislation of our career choice right here in Manitoba. This will be a long road & an expensive road but we will eventually see the light at the end of the tunnel. If we all make an honest effort, work together towards this common goal, it will make it all worthwhile!! Let's have a little faith in one another. With a little understanding & compassion for one another & constant support , together we can achieve our goals!

Respectfully,

Barbara Arora
